

Grants will create economic and housing opportunities for moderate income families

Washington, DC- Today, Congressman John Adler announced that the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) awarded nearly $6 million in funding through the HOME program and the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program. This funding will expand affordable housing, services and economic opportunities for moderate income households.

"These grants will help hardworking families and small businesses," said Congressman Adler, a member of the Financial Services Committee. "This federal investment will spur economic development in our area. I will keep fighting to ensure that South Jersey and the Shore area receive their fair share of federal funding."

In our area:

- Burlington County will receive $2,625,503
- Ocean County will receive $2,653,359
- Toms River will receive $453,622
- Cherry Hill will receive $451,513

The Community Development Block Grants program provides grants to States and local governments to enhance communities by providing housing, infrastructure and economic improvements for moderate income families. The HOME program expands the supply of affordable housing for working families by providing grants to States and local governments to fund housing programs that meet local needs and priorities.
